

traditional and contemporary electric fires

instant warmth and comfort

Burley has a fine reputation for quality products which has allowed the company to develop from a small family concern to become one of the UK's leading manufacturers of electric fires. Today Burley combines traditional family values of customer service, workmanship and value for money, with the very latest in technology, innovation and styling.

The range

The following pages offer the ultimate in choice. Burley's wide range encompasses the timeless, classically designed traditional models through to the most contemporary, hang-on-the-wall fires. Whatever your taste, Burley has a fire which will enhance your home.

The benefits

Simply switch on your Burley fire to enjoy the warmth and comfort of a traditional fire without time-consuming preparation and clearing up. Relax in the knowledge that you have invested in a stunning centrepiece to your home which requires little maintenance and is 100% efficient.

The features

A Burley electric fire is a quality product, designed to serve you faithfully for years to come.

All castings are solid brass or aluminium. No imitation plastic mouldings or other components of inferior quality are used. Many Burley fires incorporate special features such as touch control, remote control and ioniser. All display a realistic flame effect which can operate with or without heat.
